The Inkpot

2021

Dear Readers,

We are still happily celebrating our school's 15th birthday. Cheerful, yes, and also with great gratitude that Vergezicht could make a difference (and still makes a difference) in the lives of many children!

Enjoy the read.

Regards,

October 2017. DOGGY DAY

In 2017, PAT (Pets as Therapy) visited Vergezicht and informed the children about the work they do.

In 2018, Little Red Riding Hood and Wolf came to visit us.

In 2019 we started the Aftercare and Homework class at Vergezicht.

The kids enjoyed it so much, that they did not miss TV or computer games at all.

In 2020 our Mountain Bike Club already had a whole bunch of members!

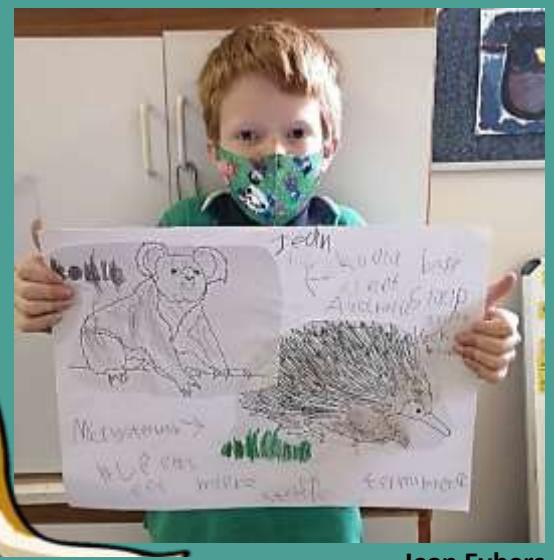

In the next Inkpot we will show more photos from our archives!

Interns at Vergezicht

Leandré
Hanekom
(Grade 1-intern)

"It is fun for me at Vergezicht because in this short period I have already learned so much from the learners and teachers. I learned to be happy with myself, to pray when things get tough and to remember where my roots are planted. Dream big and when you have finished dreaming, get to work to make it come true. It is a great privilege for me to be part of the Vergezicht family."

Mariska
Viljoen
intern)

"It excites me to be part of a support system that can give children the love, help and assistance, so that they develop to their full potential. My wish has always been to make a difference in children's lives and I cannot wait to learn more."

"A World Without Books"

by Daniel Brink (Grade 7)

A world without books, is a world without imagination,
a world without imagination
is a terrible plague reaching every nation.

A world without books
is a painting without an image,
a world without books is a perfume without a scent.

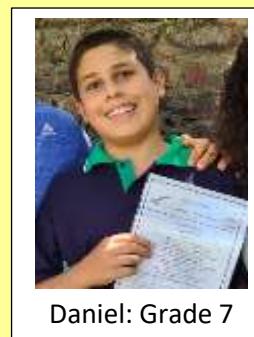

A world without books is a song without a voice.

What is worse than a swirling hurricane?
What is worse than a shattering earthquake?
What is worse than a consuming flood?

It, my friends, is dull and lacking all the joy, creativity and wonder that is found in every book.
